Always a great time with @ACYPL. Sometimes you run into someone you met in Malaysia. Great reception this evening!

No matter where you stood in the primary, no Bernie or Hillary voter should ever be comfortable with the idea of a Donald Trump presidency.

#FeelTheBern activated a generation that typically hasn't been. It was a good run but the time to unite is now! A party divided cannot stand

I kept a low profile while the race played out, it became very toxic. Very frustrating. We are better than that.

@TheOtherMandela I respect this tremendously. Let the people choose their candidate. Now that they have, stand in unison w/your party.

Women's March energy definitely eclipsed the other thing that happened yesterday. With that said, we have a lot of elections coming up.

More pics from this weekend's [redacted] with a few strong women I know.

They have been on the front lines during our city and state's greatest challenges and I'm proud to stand with them.

In one week, I've been:
✅ killed in a motorcycle accident
✅ Sammy Sosa'd
...and now they've given me a wife that I never met 😒

Foxconn's $1,200 fine comes out to 0.00000024 of the $5 billion Wisconsin taxpayers are being forced to give them.

This is all just a "look at how we're holding them accountable!" PR stunt being fed to us by Walker via his pals at the Journal Sentinel

1 15 25

Joynation @siliconred · Oct 14

The article references the citizen who took the video and the group she's a part of, A Better Mount Pleasant, which doesn't seem like good PR for Foxconn

The energy we need through November, and beyond. This is amazing!

At one of the first doors I knocked, I met young man named Jordan. He said, "Are you really going around to make sure everyone in my neighborhood can vote?" I said yes.
He grabbed his coat and said, "I'm coming with you to help."

Wish I was shocked, but the comfort they share in embracing supremacist culture is the most obscene part.

This happens when the behavior is increasingly more excused and/or promoted.

It cannot be tolerated, ignored, or inconsequential. This will not be us.

Before attacking, keep in mind that this organization is just a random bunch of kids at this high school. The only people who need to answer for this behavior are the kids in the pic, their (failing?) parents, and the grownups supposedly educating them at this school

There, he said it.

It's why they want fewer people to vote. With the luxury of gerrymandering and money in politics, you too can be this aggressively out of touch.

This dismissal of the people of WI speaks for every Republican in the legislature until they show you otherwise.

Mark Sommerhauser @msommerhauser

@SpeakerVos says he isn t swayed by po s showing public support for @GovEvers plan to expand Medicaid in Wiscons n.

Underpaid workers drive the economy.

Undocumented workers face deportation while employers profit.

Too many in unsafe working conditions w/little to no job security.

Inequality is at an all time high.

Not enough people can join a union.

This is why Labor Day matters

It's an equitable and sustainable path for our state. The only other option is the continuation of mass incarceration.

The majority in the legislature should respond to the will of the people.

Does this mean they're about to start caring for the poor, making sure people have healthcare, working towards justice, protecting the environment, and doing everything they can to prevent gun deaths?

If not, they're just making up things again to divide people.

My team didn't win, but the most valuable player of the National Basketball Association coached the opposition. Coach Bud and both hit critical 3s that cost us in the end.

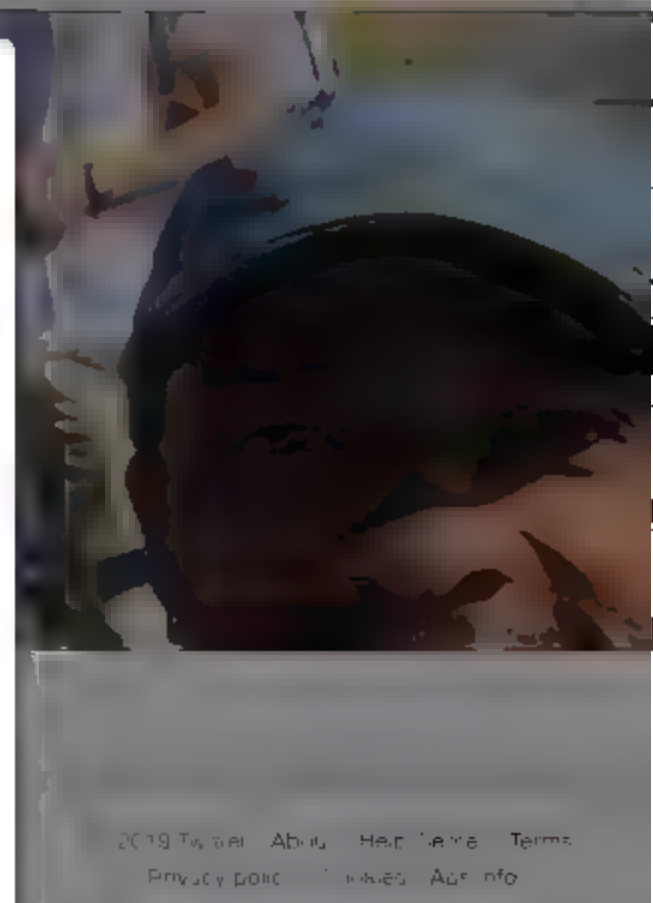
It's quite remarkable, actually, how raising the minimum wage... raises wages.



Seriously, shoutout to the people who make the least and have very little job security who walked out on strike to demand higher wages.

Rarely am I stuck in the middle, but I saw Rise of Skywalker and I TRULY hear both sides.

1) I should have seen it opening day, or avoided social media (lol)

2) In a glorious blunder, I ended up on the front row at the end of the aisle, so I missed a decent amount of movie.

Rarely am I stuck in the middle, but I saw Rise of Skywalker and I TRULY hear both sides.

1) I should have seen it opening day, or avoided social media (lol)

2) In a glorious blunder, I ended up on the front row at the end of the aisle, so I missed a decent amount of movie.

Beware of over emphasizing the record They didn't dominate a single opponent this year but lucked out and won the majority of 50-50 type games. They were much worse than their record Teams that do that often fall off dramatically the following year ex. 2019 Bears

Why doesn't the last person who makes this comparison ever pay it forward and say "hey you probably shouldn't say that" to others who are likely to say it? Seems right to warn people to not ever say this. Yet they say it, get shamed but more just come along and keep saying it.

We're on the road to talk about nonpartisan redistricting today. A quick glance of the twitter shows that not enough people understand the process. By not enough people, I'm referring to the far too many who make up a majority in our legislature.

I've been having a weird knee pain for the last month or so. I finally get around to scheduling an appointment and of course I wake up with what feels like a brand new knee the day of the visit.

Last time I had weird knee pain it was from running, and oddly enough it was referred pain from my hip and SI joint.
Changed from Nike to Hokas so that changed my gait a bit.

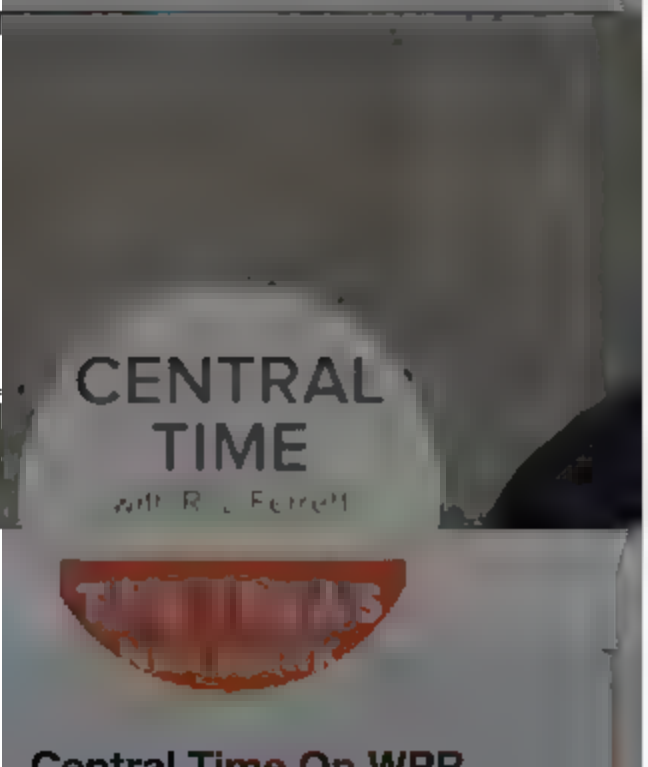
I'm old enough to remember when [illegible] co-authored a bill on two-thirds funding in 2009-10.

2009 ASSEMBLY BILL 919

April 2, 2010 - Introduced by Representatives DAVIS, STRACHOTA, BROOKS, HONADEL, KESTELL, KLEEFISCH, KNODL, LEMAHIEU, LOTHIAN, TOWNSEND and VOS. Referred to Committee on Education.

AN ACT to renumber 120.12 (24), to renumber and amend 111.70 (4) (cm) 8m., to amend 20.255 (2) (ac), 111.70 (1) (b), 111.70 (4) (cm) 6. a., 111.70 (4) (cm) 6. am., 111.70 (4) (d) 2. a. and 111.70 (4) (m) 6., and to create 111.70 (1) (dm), 111.70 (1) (mc), 111.70 (1) (ng), 111.70 (4) (cm) 5s., 111.70 (4) (cm) 8m. b., 118.245, 120.12 (24) (b) and 121.15 (3m) of the statutes; relating to: creating a qualified economic offer for school district professional employees in the arbitration process and school board selection of the group health benefits provider for school district employees.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau



Current law limits the increase in the total amount of revenue per pupil that a school district may receive from general school aids and property taxes in any school year (statewide per pupil revenue limit adjustment). For the 2009-10 and 2010-11 school years, no school district may increase its revenues per pupil to an amount that exceeds the sum of $200 and the revenue increase allowed per pupil in the previous school year. For the 2011-12 school year, no school district may increase

I think ve spoken to you before about the problems of plurality voting with a large viable field, t showed up somewhat n the last Wisconsin Gov Dem Primary, and is even more prevalent in the current Dem primary. Not only does it potentially allow a very divisive cand date win

It also encourages undercutting your closest ideological allies because their supporters are the easiest potential ga ns for your team. If we used Score or Approva Voting supporters would be trying to reach out to other candidates supporters in an additive, not subtractive way

A series of @UniteThePoor gatherings, which have featured speakers like @RevDrBarber and @liztheo, is building momentum for a June 20 march in Washington, D.C., which will focus on local concerns of pollution: "pollution of water, air, and our political process."

Disinformation existed long before social media. It's amazing who gets to go on tv and just say whatever. Little to no clarifications or addendum, and even if there is, the damage is done, OR the same people get invited right back on like nothing happened.

Seeing dems with more aggression towards Bernie than Trump. Not great.

1) he's not "our version of Trump"
2) who you think republicans want to run against doesn't matter. 4 years ago people on our side hoped Trump would be the nominee
3) still time left to help your candidate

The media could not be played.

Another avoidable uniquely American tragedy. It's not normal, we should never accept it, and we should never relent when "leaders" offer hollow thoughts and prayers but choose inaction.

Why don't we respond to gun violence like every other threat? Apparently the U.S. has "ordered a lot of masks" for coronavirus. At least there's a semblance of a response. Fortunately lives haven't been lost yet, but at the same time mass shootings continue to be ignored.

This isn't responsible. You could have at least said legislative leaders. You are talking about legislators representing districts who are in leadership of their party, not the state. This is not a comment that came from the executive office, it was the opposite.

Tonight the @MilwaukeeMPS board of school directors unanimously passed and cosponsored my resolution in support of the #hmong community and the right of refugees to have a safe haven here. #mpsproud

WHEREAS, the state of Wisconsin has a proud history of welcoming immigrants of all nationalities, religions, ethnicities and creeds; and

WHEREAS, [illegible] people [illegible] United States and Wisconsin, [illegible] to improve their lives [illegible] opportunity and freedom [illegible] have; and

WHEREAS, [illegible] Hmong people [illegible] Secret War, [illegible] to help the United States [illegible] Communist aggression [illegible] and

WHEREAS, [illegible] Hmong people [illegible] to the United States [illegible] and

WHEREAS, [illegible] Hmong people [illegible] and

WHEREAS, [illegible] Milwaukee Board of School Directors [illegible] and

S These reports have shown that among Hmong communities across the country, including those in Milwaukee, leading community leaders and organizations have called upon the President to reconsider this proposal and to express their disagreement that would result in the deportation of Hmong people living in the United States, now, therefore, be it

D That the Milwaukee Board of School Directors hereby enthusiastically states its steadfast and unanimous support of the Hmong community in the United States, in Wisconsin and in Milwaukee, especially of our students, among our staff, and among the families in our district; and be it

RESOLVED That the Milwaukee Board of School Directors demands that the federal government reject any proposals that would result in the deportation of any Hmong community (local or national); and be it

RESOLVED, That the Milwaukee Board of School Directors hereby directs the Clerk to have an engrossed copy of this Resolution, suitably signed and sealed, transmitted to the President of the United States, to the Wisconsin delegation in the U.S. Congress, to the Milwaukee delegation of the Wisconsin State Legislature, to Gov. Tony Evers, as a declaration of the settlement opposition to any attempt to deport Hmong refugees living in the United States

Here's a concept. Instead of fixing the rules to maintain power, try listening to and respecting the will of the people. It's a more sustainable approach.

This is the path of most resistance. It's the dysfunction people just said no to a few weeks ago.

A significant part of our national preparedness plan should include universal healthcare and sick leave. Sickness shouldn't spread because people are places they shouldn't have to be in the first place, say a job when you aren't feeling well.

Shouldn't take an outbreak to notice that the lowest paid and least protected workers interface with the most people. This is a constant public health crisis.

Some may ask why would a person go to work if they aren't feeling well, better question is why did they have to.

Many people who may not have realized it before see now that healthcare is a right.

Also, you shouldn't want people to have access to testing simply because you don't want them to get you sick. That's selfish.

Fight for someone you don't know, just because.

Lots of people still have to work. Lots of people still need to work (for $) but can't. Pending federal legislation doesn't cover school districts (as I understand).

The senate should act swiftly and responsibly.

I am working at home over the subliminal objection of my boss. I think there is a generational opposition to remote work, which is really unfortunate in a situation like this. I shouldn't feel pressured to put others at risk

This is a real life economics lesson. If there was less concentrated wealth at the top, more working class people may have more money to save and could potentially be less uncertain in emergency situations.

Now if these same entities with the most money lose it, then what? It's not like some cash piñata or sonic rings where the money free falls to those who need it most. It just transfers to another mountain of wealth, and the cycle continues.

Being one of eight to vote against aid for struggling people in our state is bad enough, but THIS is out of control. It's why people don't trust government.

People are losing their jobs and their small businesses while our senior U.S. Senator sold between 5 and 25 million right before the market crash. No "foresight" is that good.

How many people lost a fraction of what he made, but may never be able to recover. This is sick.

Governor Tony Evers @GovEvers 5h

Over the past few days, I've talked with public health experts and with business leaders and local elected officials around the state. Overwhelmingly the response I heard is that we need an all-hands-on-deck approach to stopping the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin.

9 60 355

Governor Tony Evers @GovEvers 5h

In fact, business leaders have suggested that it is imperative to slow the growth of the disease and that the state cease all non-essential business statewide

And, folks, all hands on deck means you, too.

A lot of concern about safer at home, and I get it. I also get what's happening in Italy and see how people wish they did things differently. There's a live ongoing example of what happens when caution isn't exercised.

I'm having them read this piece by two Stanford professors of medicine that appeared in the Wall Street Journal, and we're also discussing what a "case-mortality" rate is, what biased testing is, and how many new unemployed may result from Evers' lockdown. ws.com/articles/stan...

> If we're right about the limited scale of the epidemic, then measures focused on older populations and hospitals are sensible. Elective procedures will need to be rescheduled. Hospital resources will need to be reallocated to care for critically ill patients. Triage will need to improve. And policy makers will need to focus on reducing risks for older adults and people with underlying medical conditions.
> A universal quarantine may not be worth the costs it imposes on the economy, community and individual mental and physical health. We should undertake immediate steps to evaluate the empirical basis of the current lockdowns.

BREAKING: Judge William Conley just ruled to EXTEND THE DEADLINE to request absentee ballots in Wisconsin's election to Fri 5pm; to return ballots until Apr 13; & to waive witness requirement! Statement below. Help us organize:

"Today's ruling is a victory for voters, for public health, and for democracy itself. Every voter must count, even during crises, and this ruling gives voters critical time to vote safely by mail. It remains appalling that Republican legislators refused to do their job and address this issue themselves, and other issues remain. But because of today's decision, thousands of Wisconsin voters who feared they would be silenced will now have a voice."

Here's the relief ordered by the judge, over the objections of the Republican National Committee and Wisconsin GOP. This is a huge victory for democracy and for public health. It also means we have a lot more work to do—more time to urge folks to request ballots & to get them in.

For the reasons that follow and provided on the record during the hearing on plaintiffs' motions, the court will grant plaintiffs' motions in part, and provide the following preliminary relief: (1) enjoin the enforcement of the requirement under Wis. Stat. § 6.87(6) that absentee ballots must be received by 8:00 p.m. on election day to be counted and extend the deadline for receipt of absentee ballots to 4:00 p.m. on April 13

Turns out COVID-19 can be included on death certificates even when no positive lab test for virus obtained from deceased, a mere suspicion of virus presence suffices. How can we mandate national quarantine on such unreliable metrics, data? Ridiculous cdc.gov/nchs/data/nvss

> In cases where a definite diagnosis of COVID–19 cannot be made, but it is suspected or likely (e.g., the circumstances are compelling within a reasonable degree of certainty), it is acceptable to report COVID–19 on a death certificate as "probable" or "presumed." In these instances, certifiers should use their best clinical judgement in determining if a COVID–19 infection was likely. However, please note that testing for COVID–19 should be conducted whenever possible.

Wisconsin's election should be safe & fair, but GOP state legislative leaders haven't provided voters w/safety & fairness. The state legislature should take action to postpone the election & remove barriers to safe voting by mail so more voters can vote, not less. #WIMarchForward

In addition to being reckless and spiteful, Tuesday's election may not be valid.

A judge has already said he will be sympathetic to allegations of voter disenfranchisement, which given the racial disparity of Wisconsin's COVID-19 outbreak will be easy to argument.

A voter contacted a campaign in Milwaukee, and said "I need a witness for my absentee ballot, and I have coronavirus."

We are literally sitting here trying to figure out how to find somebody who had it, so they can go witness the signature, and get the ballot.

This is insane.

That said, we have a nominee. I recognize the reservation some may have, and it's fair. However, not winning has never been a reason to give up. The vision doesn't die, you dust off and try again. Last thing we need is for Trump to be in charge while we try to sort it all out.

When I lost a primary for state senate in 2016, I said the issues were there before me and would need to be addressed whether I was around or not. But I feel to have completely given up and walked away would have been to let down every person and cause I said I stood for.

Last Saturday was the 8th anniversary of the U.S. student debt crisis reaching $1 trillion.

8 years of students being buried by loan payments, dealing with predatory lenders, and going into default just so they can put food on the table.

It's time for a #StudentDebtStimulus.

It's hard to be a teenager no matter what, but COVID-19 is only making things more complicated and difficult. It's normal to feel anxious or stressed, but there are things we can all do to feel better. Remember that you're strong, resilient, and you can get through this.

Not a lot of products live up to the hype, but this copper knife I bought on sale last year is as sharp as advertised.

The plan was to cut carrots this morning and it did such a good job that it didn't even let my finger slow it down 🥲

Unsolicited chef advice, cut like show in picture, even if it takes time or seems difficult at the beginning. A sharp knife is actually safer. Hide your finger tips and use the knuckles to guide the knife. I hope you heal fast. That sucks

This hits extremely close to home. A doctor friend of mine got a treadmill because the hours he works, he said he wasn't taking the risk of running outside if the sun wasn't out. At the time, I laughed and said he was overthinking.

The wildfire analogy was used perfectly a few minutes ago. Emergency situations require an emergency response. If the "unelected" fire chief has to close some roads to contain the situation, it's not an overreach, it's necessary.

Apropos of everything, I can't help but think of things like this when I see people storming state houses or hear the "take our country back" rhetoric.

This was around before the president but you'd be kidding yourself to think he doesn't inspire more of it.

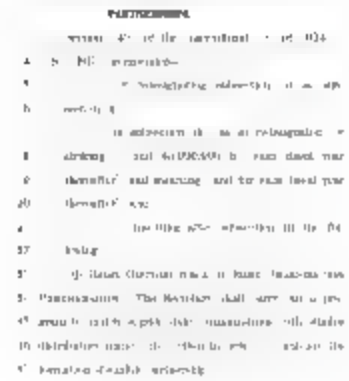
COVID-19 has forced farmers to toss millions of gallons of good milk/day.

I just authored the Farmer's MILK Act.

It authorizes the @USDA to pair dairy farmers with food banks.



Farmers get paid.

Families get fed.

Let's help farmers do what they do best: feed people.

Disappointed but not surprised. They put lives at risk by forcing an election, of course they were going to double down. It's like no lives matter. This is bad.

The showed a partisan divide about COVID-19 that wasn't shocking, but still disappointing.

The GOP has worked incredibly hard to place blame on a governor for a national emergency. Does not compute.

Those who claimed the governor overstepped, what do they make of a wholly aligned legislature and judiciary? Effectively there have been two branches of government in Wisconsin, weighted 2-1.

Milwaukee's suburban communities are home to Mayfair, Southridge and Bayshore malls, their order allows them to open. The now-defunct state order prohibited malls from opening. Suburbs also allow salons and spas. Waukesha, Ozaukee and Washington counties have no restrictions.

That's exactly why @EWarren and I have called for more oversight. We need more conditions on corporations to ensure relief goes to their workers, not their CEOs. No $500 billion slush fund. No blank checks The Trump Administration is prioritizing big corporations over workers.

Long time co-chair of the Joint Committee on Finance fumbled twenty five million dollars for for the state's unemployment system and only has this press release about me along with 6 dud tweets to show for it.

You're doing great, sir. Keep it up! No one can see your hypocrisy.

Quick pause to appreciate the supporting contributions of J.B. Smoove. He came in and took Curb to another level, his voice acting on Harley Quinn is necessary, and now another comedic dimension to The Last O.G. I wasn't a fan when he hosted Comic View, but he is gold on screen.

Lt Gov @TheOtherMandela: the Wisconsin April elections are the "canary in the coal mine." GOP forced in-person election during the rise of COVID. The outcome was predictable - and it's what the GOP wants nationwide in November.

It's not realistic to expect a president to fix all the problems, but we should have some comfortable reliance that there is at least a desire to want to make things better or maybe the will to not be ridiculous.

This is not the case.

Honestly, protests are meant to save this nation. To see a city burn on the outside is devastating but hardly compares to the implosion brought by systemic inequity and injustice.

Like internal bleeding, you may not see it, but the outcome will be catastrophic if left untreated.

Focusing solely on protestors and damage is to only address symptoms. We have to cure the disease that brought us here.

Suppressing the cough, doesn't get rid of the flu (the reason you're coughing).

If we don't fix these wounds, death is still haunting us. If we no longer turn the other way when black folks are killed, or Muslims or Jews, or trans or gay people. If we choose life! Then we can live if justice rolls down like water and righteousness like a mighty stream.

At 5:45 PM, Republicans in the State Assembly are circulating a letter to stop the Elections Commission from mailing out Absentee Ballot request forms.

Wisconsin should encourage absentee voting and voting by mail, not hinder it. The @WI Elections should stand up for access.

This has been the most amazing journey of my life! So many people said it couldn't happen. We stayed the course and continued to lead with a positive vision for Wisconsin.

This race came down to the wire, and we made history. Now it's time to make a difference.

Thank you!

My favorite thing about John Lewis is that at ComicCon, he cosplayed as his younger self, wearing the same coat and backpack he wore at the March on Selma and led kids in a little march around the convention.

There is no point to this. It's about poll numbers. It's Trump virtue signaling, potentially with force, to his base who already has opinions about Milwaukee because he's down by so many points in the state. It's an election strategy to drive an even deeper divide in Wisconsin.

I can respect that. It's 4th down and you would love to rush for 25 to send a message, but getting that 1st down gives the offense a chance to regroup. A turnover on downs could be game over.

Mike became somewhat of a mentor to me. Cant even count the times he was on hand to give advice or just talk when I saw him at the Y. This is an incredibly tough loss.

Hi, Wisconsin! Today is the last day to register to vote online before the Aug. 11 partisan primary. You have until 5 p.m. on Aug. 6 to request your mail-in ballot if you're already registered. Both are done at myvote.wi.gov.

Seems overly burdensome that you need to provide a photo ID online to REQUEST an absentee ba ot And then, after having filled out thus ba ot, it has to be witnessed. People are having to ID themselves TWICE to absentee voting Am I wrong?

If someone predicted there'd be a Kanye late registration redux 15 years later, we would've never guessed it would be a collaboration with WI republicans.

It's as big a circus as it looks. A dark twisted fantasy, if you will. A distraction. This is what desperation looks like.

So you're telling me that the Republican Party is using a black man's labor, to meet their own goals, because they don't want to do the work. We are all so shocked.

This has deep Roots.

What's interesting is that some republicans believe that he wi only take black votes away from Biden Seems like there s an underlying tone there.

Today marks the 55th Anniversary of the signing of the Voting Rights Act, landmark legislation meant to combat racist voter suppression tactics and ensure enforcement of the 14th and 15th amendments. 1/4

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 was signed into law by President Lyndon B. Johnson on August 6, 1965 with civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. present at the signing; and

WHEREAS, while the 15th Amendment made unconstitutional for any man to be denied the right to vote based on race, color, or previous conditions of servitude, widespread voter disenfranchisement efforts on the part of state and local governments against people of color and other historically oppressed communities and against Black Americans, in particular, persisted; and

WHEREAS, among the law's numerous landmark provisions were the prohibition of literacy tests at the polls, up until then, a major form of voter suppression, and the institution of federal oversight and enforcement mechanisms aimed at states with a history of discriminatory election processes; and

WHEREAS, the immediate effects of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 included a significant rise in voter turnout across our country, and especially in southern states; and

WHEREAS, in 2013, the Supreme Court struck down the Act's preclearance requirement, providing states more authority over their election rules and opening the door to discriminatory practices such as strict voter identification laws, some of the most restrictive being implemented in Wisconsin; and

WHEREAS, on this occasion, we are reminded both of the importance of holding free and fair elections that allow for and encourage the full civic participation of every citizen, as well as how far we have yet to go to achieve this goal, for all Wisconsinites and all Americans; and

WHEREAS, today, the state of Wisconsin affirms its commitment to supporting nonpartisan redistricting, ensuring the accessibility of appropriate voter identification, and eliminating all barriers to voting, especially in low-income communities and communities of color;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim August 6, 2020, as the

throughout the State of Wisconsin and commend this observance to all of our state's residents.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 6th day of July 2020.

I would say, if they want the schools to open so bad, they should go teach in them. BUT given how little regard they've shown for the virus, that would further put the health of our students in jeopardy.
